

CLUB RANGOON

LITE PWEL BRUNCH

Burmese cooking is a labour of love. All our dishes stay true to the process, with ingredients like tea leaves and crunchy beans sent over directly from Myanmar. Tea leaves for our 'laphet thoke' are from Sein Pa Laung from Mandalay, while our 'laphet-yay' is made with Lucky Tea tea leaves – a favorite in our founder's family home for over 30 years and counting.

Ask our team about allergens, as seafood products and nuts are widely used in Burmese cooking. We will do our best to accommodate your dietary requirements.

A discretionary gift of HK$8 will be added to your bill to support those at risk of starvation and in need of immediate aid across Myanmar. This is equivalent to two hot meals, which may be someone's only hot meal of the day. Find out more about our partnering organization Myanmar Kitchen at www.myanmar-kitchen.org.

Price is subject to 10% service charge.
